

Don't Take Title IX for Granted!

Former AAUW-CA president Alicia Hetman is on a mission. She wants everyone to know that Title IX protections of gender equity in education and in work cannot be taken for granted and must be resolutely protected from political attack as well as being taken for granted. That will be her message when she speaks to a joint meeting of Concord and Pleasant Hill-Martinez AAUW on Wednesday, April 22. The meeting begins at 7 p.m. with a brief business session followed by the speaker.

An elementary classroom teacher including special education from 1973-94 in Marysville, Alicia was an Education Programs Consultant from 1994-2011 with the California Department of Education (CDE). She researched and created the original Gender Equity Compliance program the then new Federal law after working with AAUW-CA to get the regulatory legislation passed.

In the two decades since, Alicia has become a leading expert on not only Title IX provisions but also on the whole spectrum of gender equity issues in and out of education. She gives speeches, serves on panels and leads workshops and training sessions throughout the state and beyond always stressing that while athletics gets the main attention, the issues are across the life spectrum for women and girls at all ages and have not been resolved yet.

Alicia Hetman

AAUW Smart Start coordinator Elena Noble will also have information available regarding the program to help young women finishing their education learn how to stand up for themselves when negotiating for equitable salary, benefits, and treatment in the workplace.

The Pleasant Hill Senior Center is located at 233 Gregory Lane. There is plenty of parking available near the front door entrance. We will be meeting in one of the classrooms towards the back of the building.

The Center's rules about no food in the classroom are strict but you may bring bottled water if you wish. Both Concord and PH-Mtz Branches are reaching out to educators, parents and students to attend so there should be a good crowd and lots of discussion.

PRESIDENTIAL POSTINGS

Co-Presidents Katrinka March & Gayle Miner

Wow - April is upon us, Spring is here and we are already gearing up for our next fabulous year of AAUW! I have always said AAUW is a tremendous deal. I have belonged to a variety of professional organizations whose dues were two to three times what AAUW asks of us and gotten a fraction of the benefits that we as AAUW members get. So get out your checkbooks, or get on line, and pay those dues because you get such a great deal for the money you spend!

Locally our dues fund all our great programs from month to month. They pay our insurance, they rent the rooms, they cover decorations, they keep our local organization going so we can socialize with other amazing women, dues give us the opportunity to advocate, and learn about what is going on locally and so we can support programs that promote women and girls.

What other organization do you belong to that has a Value Promise: By joining AAUW, you belong to a community that breaks through educational and economic barriers so that all women and girls have a fair chance.

State wide your dues support the operations of AAUW-CA: It allows the Board of Directors and Committees for Tech Trek, Speech Trek and Money Trek to travel and meet in order to provide necessary oversight for these projects. Your dues enable AAUW CA to provide visibility and opportunities to donate to AAUW Funds through annual Funds luncheons in Northern and Southern California. AAUW CA dues are the primary source of funding for: the Perspective; the AAUW CA website; the monthly communications to the branches; online voting; online registration for conventions and Funds Luncheons; the State Directory and administrative packets each year. Your dues provide the funds to develop and present branch leadership training days throughout the state. AAUW CA provides a strong collective voice as we advocate for pay equity, reproductive choice, civil rights, and educational opportunities across the state. To provide that strong voice, your dues support a part time professional advocate in Sacramento and “two-minute activist” action alerts.

Nationally things become even more impressive. Our dues support research in areas such as gender equity in education and the work place. We support programs in campus leadership and STEM education. We advocate for policies that advance equity for women and girls. We support challenges to sex discrimination in higher education and the workplace. We provide educational and lifelong learning opportunities for women. We respond to the global development needs of women, helping them contribute to the economic and social development of their countries. We provide leadership development opportunities to AAUW members.

Can you believe we can do all of these things and receive such amazing benefits from so many programs for a mere $87? What a bargain! And speaking of bargains - come join us for an enlightening night with Alicia Hetman on April 22! All for the cost of your dues.

Trinka and Gayle

TECH TREK TIDINGS

Janice Walker

If you were among the sell-out crowd of members and guests who attended our March 7th Tea, you know it was a lovely event. Our speaker, Susan Leech, delivered an entertaining and informative “tea” talk. The food was delicious and plentiful and the spring-like day added to the ambiance.

All of this was wonderful, but the best part was that we earned over $1700 for Tech Trek due to the generosity of those who attended, those who gave a contribution, and those who helped make it possible. Heartfelt gratitude is extended to those committee members who not only donated their time but also donated their expenses: Georgette Anderson, Alana Macdonald, Sandy Wolfe, Joy Barden, Gayle Miner, Helen Pereira, Sherrie Moore, Gayle Garrison, and Nancy Hobert. In addition to these members, many others also deserve sincere thanks for their assistance in providing table settings, making scones, selling raffle tickets and helping serve the food. It truly was a team effort, an achievement that reflects what AAUW is about, women working together to help other women!

Now we move on to the final phase of our year and select our candidates for our June Tech Trek Camp. The applications have been received and the committee will have interviewed and selected our final four candidates by the time you read this.

It’s that time of the year again! It’s time to pay your AAUW dues. Dues are $87 per person. Of that amount, $49 is sent to the national organization to fund various AAUW projects which promote the education and rights of women. Note that $46 of that money is TAX DEDUCTIBLE. You’ll be getting a letter in the mail, but you can also give your check to Claudia or Alana at any AAUW function. The check is due by June first.

We have a new member, Jacqueline Ulrich, joining us this month. Here is her information for your directory:

We are very happy to welcome Jacque to AAUW!

We also have some sad news this month. Carole Larson has passed away after a battle with cancer. She will be much missed! Our love and prayers go out to her family.

EDUCATION

Ilene Linszen

A WELCOME REPRIEVE

This week the State Board of education agreed to suspend the Academic Performance Index (API) for this school year to allow for the development of a more comprehensive accountability system. The new system will be based on several factors rather than just standardized test results as has been the case up to now. The other criteria have not yet been finalized, but may include graduation rates, and college and career readiness indicators. It is not clear how these criteria will relate to elementary and middle schools, but I have faith that something will be forthcoming.

Meanwhile, schools are gearing up for a totally new test, the CAASPP or California Assessment of Student Progress and Performance. These tests are computerized and will replace the much loved STAR tests. The scores from the new tests are not expected to be available until fall of 2016.

Reading about the new computerized tests piqued my interest and motivated a google search to find examples. Included here is what I found. You won’t be able to access the tests directly from this article, but I included it to help anyone who is interested to find the website, <http://www.smarterbalanced.org/>

If your tech karma is working, and you’re still interested, you’ll be able to sign into a guest session, view the tests and even try your skill.

GOOD LUCK!

Cobbling a Few Things Together

From Washington: * The Department of Education announced last week that between 2011 and 2013, graduation rates for black and Hispanic students increased by almost 4 percent while the gap between the number of white students and black and Hispanic students receiving high school diplomas decreased. * AAUW maintains that the Justice for Victims of Human Trafficking Act should not move forward if it includes language that harms women and limits their access to reproductive health care.

*Fair pay champions in the House and Senate are preparing to reintroduce the Paycheck Fairness Act, one of AAUW's top priorities for the 114th Congress.

EQUAL PAY DAY – APRIL 14

The Paycheck Fairness Act and YOU:

The reintroduction of the Paycheck Fairness Act is the perfect time to write letters to the editor and op-eds, especially since we're only two weeks away from Equal Pay Day. Visit AAUW's equal pay issue page http://salsa4.salsalabs.com/o/50796/p/dia/action3/common/public/?action\_KEY=13322&killorg=True

To have all the tools you need to get your name published in the paper! And, more importantly, get your local elected officials and broader community to pay attention to equal pay.

It's March Madness time! AAUW invites you to join us again in this year's salary showdown, using gender wage equality to follow along with the men's and women's basketball tournaments. *

*Take a stand for basic fairness by supporting schools that treat women's and men's sports equitably.*

Muriel Fry and 3 others attended the “live stream” presentation of Solving the Equation, AAUW’s latest research report on women in science, technology, engineering, and math. This event was held at Samsung in Mountain View. Over 1,000 venues participated in the “live stream”, where folks were watching the 5 person panel and the Stanford gender-in-science researcher, Londa Schiebinger, who was the convener. The companies represented on the panel were Samsung, NASA, AT&T, GlassLab (games) and Broadcom. The room was set up as a “studio” and it was scripted very closely. Our AAUW Executive Director, Linda Hallman, also greeted us and all on “live stream”. Muriel has a hard copy if anyone wants to see it. You can download your own soft copy here:
